

1. Write a program to accept names of the users and store in a file.
2. Write a program to create a class called Car with Model, Year of making details. Store and retrieve this information from a text file using StreamReader and StreamWriter
3. Write a program in C# to create a errorlog file(error.txt) which will hold the various errors that occurred while executing the program.