1. Accept 10 numbers and sort the data in ascending order and display it.

2. Write an List that will hold the names of all students and display them in descending order.

3. Write an executable program in C# that will hold the employee code and employee names available in an Organization using Collections.When the data is displayed it should be in a sorted manner.Choose an appropiate type of Collection.

4. Create a class called BookStore with fields Bookid and Bookname.Accept and display the details using Dictionary.

5. Create a class with name student and store all the student details in an List and Display the Details.

   Perform the following operations with respect to Student

   A. AddStudent
   B. GetAllStudents
   C. GetStudentById
   D. RemoveStudent
   E. UpdateStudent

Note: declare the above functionalities in IStudentRepository and implement in StudentRepository Class.